Original teaching

Let Jesus govern your loyalties

Jesus Christ calls you to love God with an undivided heart. That love strengthens every faithful relationship. When fear of rejection begins to govern your conscience, bring that fear under His lordship. Renounce the agreement that another person's approval must be preserved at the cost of truth or obedience.

Believers are called to carry one another's burdens, give generously, and receive help with humility. Unhealthy dependency emerges when a relationship repeatedly demands dishonesty, excuses harm, or makes another person's wishes the highest authority. Name the actual pattern you need to surrender and ask the Lord for freedom to respond differently.

Speak truth and establish clear boundaries

A godly boundary gives love a truthful shape. It identifies what you can responsibly give, what conduct you will join, and how you will respond when harm continues. Bring time, money, communication, and access under the wisdom of God. Let your words be clear and your conduct consistent.

You may need to decline a request, end a threatening conversation, refuse a dishonest arrangement, or ask others to share a burden. Speak with humility and courage. Entrust another person's reaction to God while remaining responsible for your own actions. Honor marriage, children, dependents, and every legitimate duty as you change the destructive pattern.

Resist fear and grow in faithful love

The enemy uses lies and intimidation to draw people away from obedience. Stand against him in the name of Jesus Christ. Reject the lie that love requires surrender to sin, and ask the Holy Spirit to strengthen your resolve. The truth of the Gospel gives courage to love with integrity.

Build fellowship with believers who will pray with you and encourage wise action. Practice honest commitments, faithful service, and rest before God. Bring returning fear to the Lord and continue in the truth He has shown you. Let His love form a generous heart, a clear conscience, and relationships increasingly governed by holiness and peace.

Personal Renunciation Guide: Beliefs, Practices & Allegiances

• Privately name the fear-driven choice: lying for approval, hiding harm, promising sinful obedience, or giving another person control of your conscience.

• Identify what you can responsibly give and the specific boundary that truth requires.

• Bring people to forgiveness and name known occult agreements or unholy family and relationship loyalties you personally accepted.

• Prepare with the two guides, surrendering others' reactions while committing to honor your own responsibilities.

A complete prayer

Pray in faith, trusting Jesus Christ and the authority of His Word.

Father, I come to You through Jesus Christ, who died for my sins and rose from the dead. I belong to Him, and I surrender my relationships to His lordship. Establish my heart in Your love as I bring the desire for approval and the fear of rejection before You.

Forgive the willing sin I chose to preserve another person's approval, and cleanse me by the blood of Jesus. I confess the dishonesty, hidden resentment, manipulation, or compromise that is truly mine. I renounce promises to keep someone satisfied through wrongdoing. I withdraw my agreement with the lie that another person's reaction must govern my conscience or decide whether I obey You.

I reject fear-driven loyalties that keep me lying, excusing harm, hiding sin, or making commitments against Your Word. I renounce the attempt to control others by making them responsible for my every feeling. Teach me to receive love honestly, share burdens faithfully, and entrust decisions to You without surrendering my responsibility.

I reject every known occult allegiance in my family and every curse connected with it. Where I personally accepted or continued those practices, I repent and renounce my participation. I reject unholy ties and sinful vows that demand loyalty above Jesus Christ. I choose to forgive the people who rejected, pressured, deceived, or harmed me. I surrender revenge and entrust them to Your justice and mercy. Heal wounded places and strengthen me to love with truth.

In the name of Jesus Christ, I resist the devil. Every demonic power working through the sinful agreements and fear-driven bondage I have renounced: I command you to leave me. I reject intimidation, deception, and the demand to return to compromise. Jesus Christ is Lord, and I stand submitted to His authority.

Holy Spirit, fill me with courage, wisdom, and faithful love. Help me establish clear boundaries concerning time, money, communication, and access. Give me words that are honest and actions that remain consistent. Strengthen me to honor marriage, children, dependents, and every legitimate duty while refusing wrongdoing. Bring believers beside me who will pray and help me share burdens wisely. Let my generosity be truthful, my commitments faithful, and my obedience rooted in love for Jesus. I entrust others' responses to You and offer my own life for Your glory. In Jesus' mighty name, amen.

Holy Spirit, fill me with courage to obey, set truthful boundaries, share burdens, and honor real responsibilities. Amen.
