Biblical foundation

Mark 10:42-45 - Jesus teaches His disciples that authority among them must take the form of service. His own self-giving mission establishes the character of Christian leadership.

James 5:13-20 - James directs the church toward prayer, the ministry of elders, anointing in the Lord's name, confession, healing, and restoring a person who wanders from the truth.

1 Corinthians 13:1-7 - Paul places love at the center of spiritual ministry. Patience, kindness, truthfulness, and self-giving conduct give expression to the character of Christ.

1 Peter 1:18-23 - Peter joins redemption through Christ's blood, His resurrection, purified obedience and love, and new birth through God's enduring Word. Christian resistance begins with belonging to this living Savior.

Luke 10:17-20 - The disciples Jesus sent report that demons submit through His name. Their authority belongs to His mission, while their deepest joy is found in belonging to God.

Acts 16:16-18 - Paul confronts a spirit of divination and commands it to come out in Jesus Christ's name. This recorded deliverance points to Christ's authority over demonic powers.

Original teaching

Prepare your own heart before helping

Come as a servant of Jesus Christ, trusting His shed blood and resurrection and depending on the Holy Spirit. Bring your own known sin, resentment, and ungodly commitments before God. Repent, forgive, and surrender your will before you minister to another person. Ask for faith, discernment, and love. Authority belongs to Christ; your role is to serve His purposes and help someone respond to Him freely.

Invite the person's own response to Jesus

Ask whether the person wants prayer, listen to the actual need, and read a relevant passage together. Help them understand faith in Christ and the new life His Spirit gives. Invite them to confess their own willing sin, forgive or ask for willingness to forgive, and renounce known ungodly agreements. They may pray in their own words or quietly before God. Their response is theirs to offer; a helper cannot repent or surrender another person's will on their behalf.

Make renunciation specific and prayer truthful

Where relevant, invite the person to reject known ancestral occult allegiances and connected curses. Let them confess any willing participation and renounce an occult dedication, oath, pact, or sinful relational tie they personally accepted. A person abused or coerced can reject the allegiance imposed upon them without confessing the abuse as their sin. Preparing for Deliverance and the Renunciation Guide provide a framework for this willing response, not a certificate that every spiritual issue has been discovered. Ask separately before touching or sharing a testimony.

Exercise Christ's authority and strengthen discipleship

Where demonic oppression is being confronted, address unclean spirits with a clear command to leave in Jesus Christ's name. Keep the person's faith and surrender to Jesus central rather than directing their attention toward spirits. Pray for healing, restoration, and the Holy Spirit's filling according to the need. Give space for an honest response, then encourage Scripture, obedience, and fellowship with a Bible-believing church. Agree on welcome follow-up and honor the person's dignity throughout.

Preparation for prayer

Prepare for deliverance

Begin with surrender to Jesus Christ, repentance, forgiveness, and a decisive break with ungodly allegiances. Use the preparation guide and personal renunciation prompts, then pray specifically about the matter before you.

Personal Renunciation Guide: Beliefs, Practices & Allegiances

• Helper: prepare your own heart through faith in Christ, repentance, forgiveness, renunciation of known ungodly agreements, and surrender to the Holy Spirit.

• Invite willing participation and let the person bring their actual need before Jesus without demanding detailed disclosure.

• Explain the two prayer roles below. Invite rejection of known ancestral occult allegiances and curses, with confession only for personal willing sin. The person may use their own words, pray quietly, or pause; participation is freely offered.

• Use the command section when confronting demonic oppression, keeping Scripture, Christ's authority, and the person's actual need central.

A complete prayer

Pray in faith, trusting Jesus Christ and the authority of His Word.

Helper: Father, I trust Jesus Christ, who shed His blood, died for sins, and rose again. Thank You for the new life Your Spirit gives. I belong to You and surrender myself to Your service. I repent of my own known sin, choose forgiveness, and renounce any ungodly agreement I have accepted. Cleanse my heart through Jesus' blood, govern my words, and fill me with faith, discernment, and love.

Person receiving prayer, if willing: Father, I believe Jesus Christ is Your Son, who died for my sins and rose again. I put my faith in Him as Savior and Lord. Give me new life through Your Spirit and establish me in Your truth. I receive Your mercy and surrender my life to You. My allegiance belongs to Jesus.

I confess the sins I have knowingly and willingly chosen. Forgive me and cleanse me through Jesus' blood, and strengthen me to turn from them. I choose to forgive those who wronged me and release personal revenge to You. Where I struggle to become willing, give me grace. Let forgiveness grow with truth and righteous boundaries. I surrender the conduct and resentment I have been defending.

I reject every known ancestral occult allegiance and every curse connected with it. Where I willingly participated, I repent. I renounce the occult practices, ungodly vows, pacts, dedications, and sinful attachments or soul ties I personally accepted. I reject imposed claims of ownership and curses directed against me. No evil spirit owns my life; I belong to God. What others forced upon me is their wrongdoing. I withdraw my willing agreement with darkness and place my worship, relationships, body, and future under Jesus Christ's lordship.

Helper: Father, receive this willing response and bring Your truth and power to the need before us. In the authority of Jesus Christ, every unclean spirit exploiting these renounced agreements or afflicting this person through the spiritual oppression we are confronting: leave. Release your hold and depart in Jesus' name. We reject Satan's demands and deception and stand upon Christ's saving work. Let every work of darkness give way before His authority.

Father, bring healing and restoration. Holy Spirit, fill our lives, renew our minds through Scripture, and establish willing obedience. Help this person remove what has been renounced and continue in prayer, worship, and truthful fellowship. Give me humility to serve faithfully and honor what was shared. Let lasting freedom and spiritual fruit glorify Jesus Christ. In His mighty name, amen.

A brief prayer

Father, cleanse my heart as I serve in Jesus Christ’s name. Help this person respond freely through faith, repentance, forgiveness, and renunciation of known ungodly agreements. Receive their surrender to the Savior who shed His blood and rose again. In Jesus’ authority, I command spirits involved in the oppression we are confronting to depart. Holy Spirit, fill our lives, bring healing, and establish willing obedience to Scripture. Keep our trust in Christ and our conduct full of love. Amen.

Walk in freedom

• Prepare your own heart and obtain the person’s willing agreement before beginning prayer.

• Invite their own faith, repentance, forgiveness, renunciation, and surrender; let them speak or pray quietly as they choose.

• When confronting demonic oppression, give a clear command in Jesus’ name, keeping the person’s dignity and Christ’s glory central.

• Encourage removal of known sinful practices, Scripture, fellowship, obedience, and welcome follow-up.
