Biblical foundation

Matthew 8:1-17 - Jesus cleanses a leper, heals a servant, removes a fever, and casts out evil spirits. Matthew presents these works as expressions of His authority and the fulfillment of Isaiah's words about our infirmities.

James 5:13-16 - James calls suffering believers to prayer and sick believers to summon the elders. Prayer in the Lord's name, anointing, honest confession, and mutual intercession belong to the church's response to sickness.

1 Corinthians 12:4-11 - The Holy Spirit distributes gifts, including gifts of healing, for the good of the church. We seek His work with faith, humility, and an earnest desire to serve those who suffer.

John 9:1-7 - Jesus directs attention away from the disciples' accusation and toward the works of God. He then heals the man born blind, revealing His power and the purpose of His mission.

Romans 8:18-27 - The Spirit helps believers in weakness while they await the full redemption of their bodies. This hope strengthens both earnest prayer for healing now and confidence in Christ's final victory over suffering.

Original teaching

Look to the living Christ

Jesus Christ is alive. His compassion has not grown cold, and His authority has not diminished. The Gospels reveal Him touching those others avoided, answering cries for mercy, restoring bodies, and confronting the powers of darkness. Bring your need before this same Lord. Ask Him plainly for healing and expect His power to work.

Torch of Christ believes that the Holy Spirit still gives gifts of healing. We call the church to pray with faith because Jesus is worthy of our confidence. The foundation is His death and resurrection, His authority, and His mercy. Set your attention on Him as you name the need you are bringing to prayer.

Pray together in the name of Jesus

James gives the sick believer a clear response: call for the elders and receive prayer. Invite trustworthy leaders to stand with you. Describe the need honestly, ask for anointing with oil as James instructs, and join your faith with those praying. The church is called to bring the suffering person before the Lord with earnest love and confidence.

Come with an open heart. Confess any sin the Lord has clearly brought to your attention, forgive where forgiveness is needed, and surrender your life afresh to Christ. These are expressions of discipleship and trust. Receive prayer as someone welcomed before the Father through His Son, and ask boldly for His healing power.

Continue in faith and thanksgiving

After prayer, give thanks to the Lord and keep your heart turned toward Him. Tell the truth about what you experience. Receive every real improvement with gratitude, and continue asking for the healing you need. Let Scripture feed your confidence and let other believers continue carrying the need with you.

Healing prayer should lead to worship and a life yielded to Jesus. Offer Him your body and the strength He gives. Ask how your testimony, your gratitude, and your service can bring glory to His name. The One who hears your prayer is also the Lord you follow through every day ahead.

Preparation for prayer

• Name the physical need you are bringing before the Lord, using the facts you actually know.

• Read Matthew 8:1-17 and consider the authority and compassion of Jesus.

• Ask trusted elders or mature believers to pray with you in faith.

A complete prayer

Pray in faith, trusting Jesus Christ and the authority of His Word.

Father, I come before You in the name of Jesus Christ, Your Son. You created my body, and You know every part of it. I lift this sickness, pain, and weakness before You. My confidence is in Your power and Your mercy. Hear my cry and stretch out Your hand to heal.

Lord Jesus, You conquered sin and death, and You reign with all authority. I ask You to touch the part of my body that needs restoration. Let Your healing power reach the source of this suffering. Relieve pain, restore strength, and bring wholeness where there is injury or disease. Let what is weak be strengthened and what is damaged be restored through Your mighty power.

Holy Spirit, fill me afresh with faith in the living Christ. Lift my eyes above what has discouraged me and fix my heart on the Lord who is able. Drive out fear and give me courage to ask with expectation. Let the peace of Christ rule in me as I place this need before Him.

Father, search my heart and lead me into truth. I confess the sin You have made clear to me, and I surrender every part of my life to Your will. Receive me through the finished work of Jesus. Let His mercy cleanse my conscience and His love strengthen my heart. I belong to Him, and I offer Him my body for His glory.

I ask You to strengthen those praying with me. Let the gifts of the Holy Spirit operate in love and power. Unite us in earnest intercession, and turn our attention fully toward Jesus. I give You thanks for every work of restoration You bring. Keep praise on my lips, faith in my heart, and obedience in my life as I continue seeking You. Be glorified in my body and in my testimony. In the mighty name of Jesus Christ, amen.
