Biblical foundation

Psalm 56 - David names real hostility and fear, then turns toward trust in God's Word. The psalm directs a frightened heart toward the faithful Lord.

Philippians 4:4-9 - Paul joins prayer, gratitude, truthful attention, and practiced obedience. God's peace guards His people through Christ as they entrust their requests to Him.

Ephesians 1:3-14 - Paul grounds God's blessings in Christ, including redemption and forgiveness through His blood, adoption, and the Holy Spirit's seal. Our belonging rests in God's grace and purposes in His Son.

1 Peter 5:6-11 - Entrusting cares to God belongs alongside vigilance and steadfast resistance to the devil. God's care strengthens believers amid real opposition.

2 Timothy 1:6-14 - Paul calls Timothy toward courageous Gospel witness through the Spirit's power and love. This concerns faithful service; it does not identify a demonic cause for every experience of fear.

Ephesians 2:1-10 - God makes His people alive with Christ and raises them with Him. Salvation rests on grace received through faith, producing a life prepared for good works.

Original teaching

Bring a named fear to the Lord

Tell the Father what concerns you: intimidation from someone, fear for your family, dread of the night, or uncertainty about what lies ahead. Distinguish the event you know from the threatening conclusion you have imagined. Fear, a nightmare, or a bodily feeling does not by itself establish a demonic cause. Pray from truth, placing your confidence in the crucified and risen Christ.

Begin with surrender. Confess actual sin where you sought control through ungodly means, chose deception, or obeyed fear against known truth. Bring the fear itself to God honestly. Forgive people who wronged you and release vengeance while keeping wise boundaries. Reject known occult allegiances and connected curses in your family, repent of your own participation, and surrender any coercive attachment to Jesus.

Stand against intimidation and receive peace

Resist spiritual intimidation in Jesus' name and reject claims that darkness has authority greater than His. Ask the Holy Spirit for power, love, sound judgment, and courage. Name the particular lie you are refusing and answer it with Scripture read in context. God Himself brings freedom; the prayer gives you words for sincere faith rather than a procedure to complete perfectly.

At night or when fear rises again, return your attention to Christ and entrust the concern to Him. Pray with mature believers and act upon wisdom where a decision or protective boundary is needed. Give thanks for real mercies and continue in fellowship, worship, and obedience. Resources 34 and 35 provide fuller preparation if known occult involvement or ungodly allegiance needs specific renunciation.

Preparing for Deliverance in Jesus’ Name

Personal Renunciation Guide: Beliefs, Practices & Allegiances

• Name the fear and distinguish what happened from an assumption about what it proves.

• Identify actual sin to confess, anyone to forgive, and one biblical truth that answers the threatening lie.

• Name any known occult allegiance or curse in your family, whether or not you participated. Repent only of your own willing involvement; do not infer hidden history from a dream.

• Identify any coercive relationship feeding intimidation and the wise boundary needed. Use resources 34 and 35 for further preparation.

A complete prayer

Pray in faith, trusting Jesus Christ and the authority of His Word.

Father, I come through Jesus Christ, who died for my sins and rose in victory over death. Through faith in Him I receive Your grace and place my life in Your hands. I belong to You. Through His shed blood, cleanse me from sin and strengthen me in the redemption and forgiveness He gives. Hear the fear I bring before You now, and establish my confidence in the Lord who reigns over all.

I name the concern that has been weighing upon me and the threatening lie I need to reject. Keep me grounded in what is true. Where I have actually sinned by seeking ungodly control, speaking deception, or turning from obedience, forgive me and lead me into repentance. I surrender those choices to Jesus and receive Your mercy.

Father, help me forgive those who have wronged me or used intimidation against me. I place vengeance and judgment in Your hands. Remove bitterness from my response and give me courage to maintain wise boundaries. Let the wrong another person committed lose its power to govern my allegiance and choices.

I reject every known occult allegiance in my family and every curse connected with it. If I have sought occult protection or trusted an ungodly source of guidance, I repent and renounce my participation. Where a coercive attachment has drawn me under sinful control, I surrender it to Christ. You alone are my God; establish trust in You where those loyalties have stood.

In the name of Jesus Christ, I resist the devil and reject his intimidation, lies, and accusations. I command every unclean spirit seeking to harass me and draw me from Christ to cease and depart in His name. Father, protect me from evil. I reject the claim that darkness is greater than my Savior or that fear must rule my life.

Holy Spirit, fill me with power, love, courage, and peace. Guard my attention in the quiet hours of the night and strengthen me when disturbing thoughts rise. Help me entrust what I cannot control to the Father and attend to His truth. Give me wisdom for the action before me, faithful believers to pray beside me, and gratitude for the mercies You provide. I yield my future, my loved ones, and this moment to Jesus. Establish me in faith and obedience as I continue with Him. In His mighty name, amen.
